GCMS & GCMSA SHINES!

This past month, I served as a delegate from Genesee County to the MSMS House of Delegates in Grand Rapids. This is the second time I have attended; and while I do not get as excited about it as Peter Levine does, I have had a great experience both times.

This year I was a member of the Legislative Issues Reference Committee. We reviewed proposals and heard arguments for and against many issues that members wanted MSMS to address with our state legislators. We supported a proposal that state medical licensing requirements remain separate from maintenance of certification and specialty board certification requirements. We supported a proposal to reform Michigan Medicaid GME funding, seeking to have teaching hospitals to be required to use GME funding for GME positions. The concern was that we have more medical schools and medical students in Michigan. But no increase in GME positions – so we risk losing those students to other states. Other proposals that were passed in the House included opposition to fracking in Michigan and opposition to the proposed Canadian nuclear waste storage facility near Lake Huron, and proposals to ban sale of e-cigarettes to minors.

It was a productive and a busy two days, but we did find the time to get together for the Kentucky Derby party, which was well attended and lots of fun.

One of the highlights of the weekend was having Dr. Rao, Dr. Mukkamala, and Dr. Colone all in the dais as officers. We are very fortunate to have Dr. Colone as President Elect for GCMS – that man can REALLY run a meeting!!

Finally, a shout-out to the GCMS Alliance who invited myself and the GCMS staff to their Geranium Luncheon on May 19th. I look forward to working with their new Co-Presidents Maria McCann and Raquel Yapchai. They are very impressive women. I will however, miss working with my friend Ruqsana Ahmed, out-going President, but I look forward to seeing her out at her farm where she takes loving care of my sweet horse. These women do great work and make all of us look good. Thank you!

MEDIA VIOLENCE IS BRUTALIZING

Violence is the last refuge of the incompetent.

Isaac Asimov (1920-1992)

Many of us grew up watching cartoons on Saturday mornings. Some of the most entertaining cartoons were often the most violent. It seems that Wylie E. Coyote always ended up holding the wrong end of a stick of dynamite or Elmer Fudd would meet a nasty end while trying to bag Bugs Bunny. Could it be that these shows were sowing the seeds of possible future violent behavior in millions of kids?

Psychologists at Iowa State University conducted studies that revealed that young men who are habitually aggressive may be vulnerable to the effects of repeated exposure to violent computer games, and that anyone can be temporarily more aggressive after even a short-term exposure to violent games. The aggressive behavior was measured by recording the length of time the study subjects punished an opponent by blasting them with loud noise. The researchers concluded that violent video games provide a forum for learning and practicing aggressive solutions to conflict situations. Violent video games seem to prime the pump of aggressive and violent thoughts.

Video games are rated by the industry’s Entertainment Software Review Board. The games are rated on a scale similar to movie ratings but different enough to be confusing to parents. E is for everyone, T is for teen (13 years and older), M is for mature (similar to an R movie rating) and AO is adults only. The problem with this rating system is that stores and video rental outlets rarely adhere to or enforce them.

In 2000, four major organizations concerned with public health, especially related to children – the American Academy of Pediatrics, the American Medical Association, the American Psychological Association, and the American Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry - issued a joint statement to Congress stating that viewing entertainment violence can lead to increases in aggressive attitudes, values, and behavior, particularly in children. Its effects are measurable and long-lasting. Moreover, prolonged viewing of media violence can lead to emotional desensitization for violence in real life. Violent video games may be more harmful than television shows or films because they are interactive, requiring the player to identify with the aggressive character.

These conclusions are not particularly new. A study done in 1956 showed more aggressive behavior during play in children who watched a “violent” Woody Woodpecker cartoon than those who watched a nonviolent program, The Little Red Hen. The critical period for lasting harm from exposure to depictions of violence appears to be in preteen adolescence. Children who view violent programming can come to see the world as more violent than it actually is, and a callous attitude toward violence can emerge. Parents need to be encouraged to limit their child’s television and video game use. They should also keep these items out of the child’s bedroom, and watch programs with kids instead of using them as a substitute babysitter.

Exposure to violent television, computer games, music, and movies is unlikely to be the root cause and determining factor of crime and violent behavior. After all, the human race has a history of horrific violence long before any of these existed. But violence in our entertainment media can lead impressionable young people to be less trusting of others and perceive the world as a very hostile place, and behave in kind. Americans are fiercely protective of the right of free speech, but that does not mean we have to accept the entertainment industry’s mantra that they are simply providing the public what it wants. We need to insist on accurate information about the level of violent content in television shows, computer games, music and movies.
MANAGING DOCUMENTS IN PRACTICES

On April 23rd, Attorney Jonathan Hartman of Cline, Cline & Griffin, spoke with practice managers on managing documents, HIPAA, privacy, templates and other legal issues for practices. The meeting was free-wheeling with a lot of open discussion.

In advance of the meeting, Peter Levine reviewed legislative issues, including discussion of Senate Bill 68, relating to scope of practice for nurse practitioners, and the auto no-fault reform legislation. In addition, Levine solicited pilot sites for a program which would allow admit discharge and transfer notifications to be sent via push technology to practices by Great Lakes Health Connect.

The May session for Practice Managers focused on Meaningful Use 2, presented by Stacey Hettiger of the Michigan State Medical Society. Please look for a full meeting report to appear in the July issue of The Bulletin.

The June Practice Managers Meeting will feature “Grab the Cookie” a menu of programs which can aid a practice on PCMH, PGIP, Meaningful use and enhanced reimbursement!

The Greater Flint Health Coalition has several tools which can really make a difference in your practice including: an electronic ADT project in conjunction with Great Lakes Health Connect, a diabetes registry, shared medical appointments, and advance care planning.

Practices which are using these tools are glad that they are. Come and hear about these new resources and ideas!
EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR’S MESSAGE

KEY ISSUES

Peter Levine, MPH

It’s summer! This is the time of year when people hope things will slow down, but things rarely do. ICD-10 is right around the corner. GCMS is in the process of planning an ICD-10 boot camp. Please let myself or Sherry know if you or your staff are interested in attending.

This issue of The Bulletin contains an article about the MSMS House of Delegates. It was a major success. You were represented excellently.

This issue of The Bulletin contains a photo and brief bio of Kristin McBride, MSW, a new staff person who has been hired to develop a Physician’s Toolkit on Human Trafficking. She is being funded with money from the State of Michigan. Please welcome her when she contacts you about showing you the information that will make it easier to diagnose and refer patients who might be victims of human trafficking.

The May Dinner Business Meeting revolved around HealthPlus-related issues. The slides for that presentation are available via a url, contained in the article. Do yourself a favor and avail yourself of them.

The September Dinner Business Meeting will centered on Great Lakes Health Connect, the statewide data system which we will all have to become familiar with.

The 2015 Presidents’ Ball will be held on November 7th at Warwick Hills Golf & Country Club. It will honor Dr. Deborah Duncan for her inaugural, but just as importantly, it will be a blast. Please reserve the date. The theme will be “The Queen’s Royal Ball.”

We place your interests first and strive for your success and satisfaction above all.

Trust us to provide payment solutions to your payment challenges.

The GCMS Bulletin
Meet Kristin McBride, GCMS Human Trafficking Program Coordinator. Kristin first came in contact with GCMS when she was working on her Bachelor of Social Work from University of Michigan-Flint. She helped draft a human trafficking resolution regarding reunification for the MSMS House of Delegates in 2014. That resolution passed. Kristin will graduate in July with a Master of Social Work from University of Michigan. She is currently serving on the National Association of Social Workers - Michigan Chapter’s Board of Directors. Kristin has passions for women's studies, race relations, substance abuse treatment and policy work. She has experience with qualitative research in Flint, Detroit, and Ypsilanti, and has been involved in urban gardening, peace studies and human trafficking awareness. Kristin will be working with GCMS to create a toolkit that will enable physicians to identify human trafficking victims in Genesee County. The position is a seven-month contract. Further funding is being sought.

DO I HAVE TO PROVIDE AN INTERPRETER?

Dealing With Hearing Impaired Patients

By R. Paul Vance

Do I have to provide a patient with an interpreter?
I have been receiving this question more and more frequently in recent years.

Unfortunately, there are no black-and-white or yes-or-no answers. The more pertinent question is whether or not you are providing ways to effectively communicate with deaf or hard-of-hearing patients.

Under both the Michigan Persons with Disabilities Civil Rights Act and the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), health care providers have a duty to ensure that communication with people who have a hearing loss is as effective as communication with others. 28 C.F.R § 36.393(c).

According to state and federal law, means of effective communication can include using auxiliary aids and services, including listening devices, note takers, written materials, television decoders and telecommunications devices for the deaf. Still, a private practice physician must ensure that whatever accommodation is used results in effective communication for the deaf or hard-of-hearing individual. Thus, whether communication with a patient is effective should be carefully dealt with on a case-by-case basis. In this regard, a physician or other health care provider should consult with the patient and consider his self-assessed communication needs before using a particular aid or service. 56 Fed. Reg. 35,566.67.

When determining what accommodations are reasonable and necessary, a health care provider can choose among the auxiliary aids and services noted above as long as the result is “effective communication.” However, a physician is not required to provide an auxiliary aid or service that would result in an undue burden or in a fundamental alteration in the nature of the goods and services provided by the physician. Nonetheless, a physician still has the duty to furnish an alternative auxiliary aid or service that would not result in an undue burden or fundamental alteration. Of course, this begs the question: What is an undue burden? Pursuant to the ADA, an undue burden is something that involves a significant difficulty or expense. Factors to consider include the cost of the aid or service, the overall financial resources of the health care provider, the number of employees working with the provider, legitimate/necessary safety requirements, the effect on the resources and operation of the provider and the difficulty in locating or providing the aid or service. 28 C.F.R. § 36.104. As long as the provision of the auxiliary aid or service does not impose an undue burden on the physician’s business and does not fundamentally alter the provider’s services, the health care provider is expected to pay for the auxiliary aid or service. However, health care providers should keep in mind that they may claim a tax credit “eligible access expenditures.” Eligible access expenditures include the costs of interpreters, or telecommunication devices for the deaf (TTYs) and providing other auxiliary aids and services. The Michigan Department of Civil Rights has also recognized that a physician can receive a tax credit and/or tax deductions for providing patients with accommodations, including interpreters or assistive devices.

More recently in Michigan, new regulations went into effect regarding the use of sign language by interpreters in hospitals and physician offices, as well as other public institutions. These rules govern the minimum education and certification required by interpreters and detail the use of video remote interpreting devices (VRIs). The new rules allow for patients who are deaf or hard of hearing to refuse VRI services if they believe in good faith that the system is poor or does not meet their needs for effective communication.

Compliance with the various regulations regarding the use of interpreters and auxiliary aids and assistive devices should be taken seriously. For example, a violation of the Michigan Persons with Disabilities Act may result in remedial actions, payment of damages for an injury or loss caused by the violation, including reasonable attorney fees. See MCL 37.2605 (2).

With this in mind, it is recommended that health care providers take the following actions to demonstrate their compliance with the law and ensure continued compliance in the future:

- Ensure that the determination of appropriate auxiliary aids or services (including interpreters) are made in consultation with the patient. In making these determinations, the physician should take into account the nature, length, complexity and importance of the communication at issue, the patient’s communications skills and knowledge, as well as the patient’s health status or changes thereto and the patient’s request and/or need for an interpreter. When medical services involve lengthy or complex oral communications with patients, physicians are likely to be required to provide a qualified sign language interpreter and/or other auxiliary aids to the patient free of charge. It is recommended that determination of the appropriate auxiliary aids and services be made at the time an appointment is scheduled or at any time prior to the patient’s scheduled appointment. When consulting with a patient regarding what types of communication are effective, courts will give great deference to whether or not the patient believes the communication is effective.

- Health care providers should maintain a sign in a conspicuous place that indicates that appropriate aids and services, are available free of charge to people who are deaf or hard of hearing. Health care providers should also maintain a list of qualified interpreters or interpreter agencies that employ or arrange the services of qualified interpreters to ensure that qualified interpreter services are available if needed.

- It is also recommended that health care providers make available training for employees and/or staff in regard to compliance with the ADA and Michigan Persons with Disabilities Act. In this regard, contact can be made with the Michigan Department of Civil Rights Division of Deaf and Hard of Hearing at (877) 499-6232.

The recommendations noted above are based upon the ADA and Michigan Persons with Disabilities Civil Rights Act. Implementation of these recommendations should go a long way toward minimizing risk and ensuring compliance with federal and state law, reducing the chances of litigation and/or administrative complaints filed by deaf or hard-of-hearing patients.

For specific questions or a consultation on the above issues, you may contact the author at pvance@ccglawyers.com or (810) 232-3141.
MAY LEGISLATIVE LIAISON COMMITTEE MEETING

On May 4th, the Legislative Liaison Committee met to discuss the deliberations of the Michigan State Medical Society House of Delegates. In attendance were Nicole Addington from Representative Faris’ office, Clive Edwards from Representative Neeley’s office, and Amy Hovey from Congressman Kildee’s office.

Dr. Cathy Blight, Chair, reviewed key GCMS resolutions which might result in legislation. The first was a resolution opposing fracking until it can be determined to be without health hazards. The second was in response to a request from Congressman Kildee to introduce a resolution asking for legislation opposing a nuclear waste site in close proximity to Lake Huron, in Canada. Maintenance of certification was a major issue. MSMS’s position is that Board Certification is not a primary indicator of quality.

Also discussed was a resolution which would have pharmacies report immunizations and testing to primary care physicians and a resolution which would treat e-cigarettes like tobacco.

The Committee also reviewed Senate Bill 68, expanding nurse practitioners’ scope of practice. Alternate legislation has been introduced which goes by the same number. The alternate legislation was prepared by MSMS. It is patient-care-team focused.

Nurse practitioners are now opposed to the bill and the Michigan Nurses Association is now neutral.

The Committee also reviewed the current situation with the auto no-fault legislation which is moving quickly.

It was noted that the SGR is repealed. A letter has been sent to Senators Stabenow and Peters, as well as Congressman Kildee, to thank them for repealing the SGR.
WE WANT YOU FOR THE LEGISLATIVE LIAISON COMMITTEE!

Young physicians - are you looking for interchange with your legislators?

Seasoned physicians - would you like to help bring GCMS and MSMS positions to the forefront?

Become involved in the GCMS Legislative Liaison Committee!

Be a part of an elite group of communicators who meet with our elected officials.

You are invited to engage in conversation with your legislators on the first Monday of each month at 8:00am in the Rapport Conference Room at the GCMS office.

This is a valuable opportunity; don’t let it go to waste!
GCMS had a remarkable MSMS House of Delegates. Our resolutions went beautifully, and our candidates were successful. In addition, our resolutions helped shape the future of medicine in the state of Michigan.

The Genesee County delegation included Drs. Shafi Ahmed, Cathy Blight (Chair), Laura CarraVallah, Pino Colone (Speaker), Deborah Duncan, Mona Hardas, Gary Johnson, Nita Kulkarni, S. Bobby Mukkamala (District Director), Gerald Natzke, Rubin Raju, Rama Rao, Venkat Rao (Treasurer), Raymond Rudoni, John Waters (District Director), and Amanda Winston, staff was Pete Levine.

Dr. Cathy Blight received a Presidential Citation from outgoing President James Grant, MD, for her years of leadership of MSMS and the AMA delegation. In addition, Sen. Judy Emmons received a citation for legislative service to medicine for her superb work in passing a package of human trafficking bills. Sen. Emmons lauded Jay Kommareddi of the GCMS Alliance, as well as the GCMS for its spearheading work on human trafficking in Michigan.

Dr. Pino Colone was reelected to the position of Speaker. Drs. S. Bobby Mukkamala and Pino Colone were reelected as AMA Delegates. Dr. Mukkamala was also reelected to the MSMS Board. Drs. Madhusdana Tummala, Edgardo Balde, Aftab Aftab and Kumbla Bhakta received their 50 year awards.

GCMS was well represented on the following committees:
- Reference Committee A - Medical Care Delivery, Gerald Natzke, DO
- Reference Committee B - Legislation, Deborah Duncan, MD
- Reference Committee C - Internal Affairs and Constitution & Bylaws, S. Bobby Mukkamala, Board Advisor, and Cathy Blight, AMA Advisor
- Reference Committee D - Public Health, Amanda Winston, MD and Gary Johnson, MD
- Reference Committee on Ways and Means, John Waters, MD, Board Advisor, and Venkat Rao, MD, Board Advisor
- Committee on Rules and Order of Business, Rama Rao, MD, and Pino Colone, MD, Ex-Officio Member, Speaker of the House
The GCMS-inspired resolutions fared well, with the exception of a resolution which would ask that multi-building apartment complexes dedicate smoke free spaces. That resolution was disapproved. The resolution which would establish physical activity requirements for all public school students was approved as amended. The resolution entitled Fracking in Michigan, was approved. The resolution entitled Report Immunizations to Primary Care Physicians, was approved. The resolution entitled Urge Action to Evaluate the Proposed Underground Nuclear Waste Repository in Ontario, was approved. The resolution to Provide Alternate Pathways to Continuing Board Certification, was approved as a substitute resolution, because there was so many resolutions discussing the same issue. The resolution entitled Reform Michigan Medicaid CME Funding, was approved.
EAST LANSING – Cathy O. Blight, MD, past president of the Michigan State Medical Society, was presented with a Presidential Citation during the 150th annual meeting of the MSMS House of Delegates on May 2 in Grand Rapids.

The award was presented to Dr. Blight by outgoing MSMS president James D. Grant, MD, for her leadership in the medical profession.

“Doctor Blight has never stopped serving MSMS in leadership roles since joining long ago and I don’t think she will for any time in the near future,” Dr. Grant said in presenting the award.

Dr. Blight has served on the Michigan Delegation to the American Medical Association since 1987. In 2002 she was elected chair of the Delegation, a position she has held ever since. She served as MSMS president in 1998-99.

“The Michigan Delegation is held in high esteem at the AMA in large part because of her leadership,” Dr. Grant said.
Dr. Roderic Abbott died in Sedona, Arizona on April 17, 2015 after a three year battle with cancer.

Dr. Abbott was born in 1928 in Chicago, Illinois. He graduated high school in 1945 and worked his way through Illinois State University before being accepted at Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia, from which he received his Doctor of Medicine degree in 1952. He interned at Presbyterian Hospital of Chicago, and remained there for a residency in Pathology before moving to Buffalo, New York for a residency in Internal Medicine at E. J. Meyer Memorial Hospital. His residency was interrupted by two years’ service as an officer in the U.S. Navy Medical Corps. He was a Fellow in Hematology and an Instructor of Medicine at the University of Buffalo. He was certified by the American Board of Internal Medicine, a Member of the American Society of Clinical Oncology, and a Fellow of the American College of Physicians. Dr. Abbott had a forty year association with Hurley Medical Center, serving as Chief of Hematology and Oncology from 1964 until his retirement from active practice in 1997. Between 1968 and 1980 Dr. Abbott served as Chief of Hematology and Oncology at McLaren General Hospital. He served as an Instructor of Medicine at Wayne State University School of Medicine 1965-1984, and as a Clinical Professor of Medicine at Michigan State University College of Human Medicine 1983-1995. In addition to his duties as a practicing physician, teacher and medical center administrator, Dr. Abbott was published frequently in medical journals.
